http://news.xinhuanet.com/english2010/china/2011-05/04/c_13858726.htm

BEIJING, May 4 (Xinhua) -- China on Wednesday urged a U.S. religious commission to abandon prejudices and stop interfering in China's domestic affairs through issuing reports.

"We urge the so-called 'U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom' to abandon its prejudices, respect facts and stop intervening in China's domestic affairs by means including issuing reports," Foreign Ministry spokesperson Jiang Yu said in a written statement.