By Mindy Belz

http://www.worldmag.com/webextra/17709

Sources in Kabul, along with the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom in Washington, D.C., confirmed his release Thursday. His whereabouts were not disclosed pending Mossa's reunion with his wife and six children. Due to threats from Muslim neighbors and the hardship of Mossa's imprisonment, the family in recent months was forced to leave Afghanistan.