

Dr. Maryann Cusimano Love

During her 2009-2010 Fellowship, Dr. Love was a tenured Associate Professor of International Relations and a Fellow at the Institute for Policy Research and Catholic Studies at the Catholic University of America in Washington, DC. With the support of the Crapa Fellowship, her project focused on educating U.S. government foreign affairs personnel on the importance of religious freedom in international affairs and U.S. foreign policy by creating education, training, curriculum, and case study materials for U.S. government officials who attend senior foreign affairs training at the Foreign Service Institute, schools of Professional Military Education, and universities. Find below links to three case studies developed during her Fellowship:

Partnering for Peace in the Philippines: Military and Religious Engagement

Taking on Turkmenistan

The Vietnam Dilemma